THE CREY AVABABLE CANDIDATE

THE Key West Journal has the fol-Lowing to say about the candidacy of Jugoon Harmont

We have raviewed the situation very throughly and are of the opinion that only with the right man can the democency win the fight for the presidency next year, the sisctions of last fall shattered many dreams and only rainbow chasers can see clear sailing ahead, It was plainly demonstrated that Woodrow Wilson as a anochestal leader was out of the running, and all the clap trap about his great National Agricultural Exposition. not wishing to use the money of millionaires is buncome, his campaign is is history of this movement and what it nanced to the top notch and the flood of stands for in its relation to agricultustippings, plate matter and editorials rat education and development know someone with plenty of money is back. The competitive exhibits of corn, other of the deal, We have too many times put grains, and grasses is only a miner part up men who could not win just because of the Exposition. The great feature we of the south have too much sentiment will be the exhibits and demonstrations practiced here is satisfactory we of the south have too much scatiment will be the exhibits and demonstrations in all points. All details of the we can carry every southern state with or the various State Agricultural Coltrade has been fully mastered any one of the men mentioned by the leges and Experiment Stations and the press but in order to win we must carry United States Department of Agricul-Harmon has demonstrated his ability to graphle and forceful manner the various carry his own state with over 30 votes lines of agricultural experimentation in the Electoral college. He would nudonntedly carry Indiana, and probabily the United States Department of Agri-New York, and possibly Illinois Let us culture and the different State Agricul-

NATIONALICORISERIPOSITION.

Most Session to but theid in Columbia, South Carolina

uble, S. C., Feb. 7.-The Fifth National Corn Exposition will be build in Columbia. S. [C., January 27th to February Sth, 1913. The four previous expositions were held in the Morthern States and the selection of a Southern State for the next is an acknowledgement of the fact that the South is no longer looked upon as purely a cotton producing section.

For the first time in the history of the country, all sections - East, North and West-will have an opportunity to meet in the South for the holding of a

Each exhibit will be let sentiment go and get down to bust in the charge of experts, who will explain the details to the visiting farmers and point out how the results of this work may be applied to their own farm

In addition to this there will be a display of farm and dairy equipment and machinery, more extensive than anything ever assembled in the South before. In the dairy division there will be representative animals of the various dairy farme, brought tomather under the ampices of the National Darry Cattle Clubs; also a modern milit handling plant where cheese and butter will Conservation, country life and rural school problems will be treated in a fundamental way both through exhibits and by speakers of untional reputation. There will be competitive classes of grains and grasses and cotton. As this Exposition is national in scope it is necessary to limit the number of competitheir respective State shows. In this way only the best that has been pro-dated byfeach State, will be exhibited to compete for Zone, National and International exceptaires trophics.

Two years will intervene between this Exposition and the one held at Columbia, Ohio, in 1911. This language of time will enable the management to put on a show at Columbia that will far surpuss and agreeation of this kind previously. any exposition of this kind previously

The National Corn Exposition is a grand round jup of all State agricultural meetings and shows—the best in thought and the best in exhibits. It summarizes, in graphic form, the apricolumnit progress of the instance.
